AN EXTRAORDINARY AIR-SHIP.—A New York paper notices the success of the most extraordinary invention of the age, if not the most so of any the world ever saw—at least the greatest stride in invention ever made by a single individual. In October last, Dr. Salomon Andrews, of Pert Amboy, N. J., commenced the construction of a war ærostat, for reconnoitering purposes, on his own personal responsibility, not being able, after submitting his plans to the War Department, to make the honorable Secretary of War "see the utility" of a machine which would go over into Secesh and reconnoiter the force and position of the enemy. His plans showed that the machine could not do otherwise than go ahead in any direction in which the bow was pointed, and that, too, with any amount of power or force which might be desired, and which greenbacks would readily procure.

The power required and the propelling apparatus added but little weight to the ærostat; whether of large or small dimensions; consequently it did not increase the dimensions of the ærostat beyond that of balloons of ordinary construction, much less in size than many that are now made. The machine made by Mr. Andrews would carry up three men in addition to all the fixtures and paraphernalia for its forward movement. It contained twenty-six thousand cubic feet of hydrogen gas. It carried him, weighing one hundred and seventy-two pounds, and two hundred and fifty-six pounds of ballast. Its form was that of three cigars pointed at both ends, secured together at their longitudinal equators, covered by a net and supporting by one hundred and twenty cords a car sixteen feet below under its center. The car was twelve feet long, made of basket work, and was sixteen inches wide at the bottom. The ærostat, or cylindroids, were made of varnished linen, like ordinary balloons.

On Friday, the 6th inst., he made his last experiment, and demonstrated to an admiring crowd the possibility of going against the wind, and of guiding her in any and every direction with a small rudder having only seventeen square feet of surface. He made no long flight in one straight line, lest his modus operandi should be divulged; but by a most ingenious plan demonstrated her capabilities beyond all possibility of doubt, whilst he prevented a public knowledge of his method of propelling. After a few short flights, to satisfy himself and a few friends that all was right, and that she would do all he had contemplated, he set her off in a spiral course upward, she going at a rate of not less than one hundred and twenty miles per hour, and describing circles in the air of more than one and a half miles in circumference.

She made twenty revolutions before she entered the upper strata of clouds and was lost to view. She passed through the first strata of dense white clouds, about two miles high, scattering them, as she entered, in all directions. In her upward flight could be distinctly seen her rapid movement in a contrary direction to the moving clouds, and as she came before the wind passing by them with great celerity. As she was distinctly seen thus to move, both below and above the clouds on the clear blue afternoon sky, with the sun shining clear upon her, there could be no mistake or optical illusion to the beholder.

As to her propelling power and moving apparatus, it behooves us not now to speak. It might be considered contraband of war, or affording aid and comfort to the enemy, for with such a machine in the hands of Jeff. Davis, the armies around Washington would be powerless to preserve the capital. We think Dr. Andrews deserves more praise for the patriotic ingenuity with which he has preserved his secret, and yet tried his grand experiment in the open air before the public, than even that manifested in the conception and construction of his machine.

CURIOUS FACTS.—A scientific journal, in the course of an essay on "The Races," says:

The nature of the profession exercises a great influence on longevity. Thus out of 100 of each of the following professions, the number of those who attain their 70th year is: Among clergymen, 42; agriculturists, 40; traders and manufacturers, 33; soldiers, 32; clerks, 32; lawyers, 29; artists, 28; professors, 27; and physicians, 24—so that those who study the art of prolonging the lives of others are most likely to die early; probably on account of the effluvia to which they are constantly exposed. There are in the world 335,000,000 of Christians, 5,000,000 Jews, 600,000,000 professing some of the Asiatic religions, 160,000,000 of Mohammedans, and 200,000,000 of Pagans. Of the Christians, 170,000,000 profess the Catholic, 66,000,000 the Greek, and 80,000,000 the Protestant Creeds.

MARRIED BY CHANCE.—The Count te M— lived in a state of lingle and indepencent blessedness. He was yet young, very rich, and was surrounded by everything that could give emjoyment to life—except a wife. He had frequently thought of becoming a husband, but always declared off before the knot was tied. Once, however, he found himself very nearly committing the folly of matrimony. A young person, the daughter of one of his friends, pleased him—her fortune pleased him not less, perhaps, than her beauty and accomplishments, and there were other reasons of convenience, etc., to justify the union. The Count, who had so frequently made the first step toward matrimony, but as frequently drawn back, had not yet decided upon the course he should adopt in the case; he had promised the lady's friends repeatedly, but made no outward sign of performance. But his future mother resolved to bring things to a determination, and therefore demanded of the Count whether he was or was not going to marry her daugter, and requested an immediate reply. The Count found himself in great embarrassment. At this moment his fears and hesitations returned with more force than ever—he trembled at the possible concequences of his action. To give up his cherished habits of bachelorhood, he found, was hard—it was almost impossible to abandon them. Not able to decide, he left the matter to chance.

He wrote two letters; in one he accepted the hand of the young lady, and in the other refused it. He then put them both into a hat, and called his servant

"Take one of those letters," said he, "and carry it to the chateau de ——."

"Which, sir?"

"Which you please."

The servant chose a letter. The Count burned the other without looking at it.

A distance of ten leages separated the two chateaux. The domestic must be absent twenty four hours, and that time must elapse before he could know his fate. His situation is anything but agreeable; he knows not during twenty four hours whether he is a married man or a single one—whether he has still the power to dispose of himself, or whether he is already disposed of.

The servant returned. He had carried the letter of acceptance, and M. le Count de M— is, even at this time, the happiest husband in that part of the country.

THE HUMBOLDT CANAL.—A correspondent of the Bulletin writes from the Humboldt mines as follows:

I visited the great Humboldt Canal lately, from one end to the other, a distance of 78 miles. It was located in the early part of 1862 by Sinaca and Sintz, who made a preliminary survey and organized a company for its construction; the company had it afterward surveyed difinitely by Lauteren and Black, Civil Engineers. Its construction is under the superintendence of Mr. Senaca, who has given several contracts. The tools used in its construction are mostly plows and scrapers, worked by cattle. Four miles at the upper end are already completed. The canal is ten feet wide at the bottom, 15 feet at the top, and with the embankments from 7 to 8 feet deep; it runs generally in straight lines without the least curves. The most of it dug in a kind of hard clay, quite impermeable. Ten more miles are in course of construction. The dam is also commenced.

The amount of water that this canal will carry when completed will furnish motive power to an infinity of mills, which cannot be well estimated at present, as its great fall will permit the use of the same water by two or three different mills one after the other The use of the canal as a means of transporting timber, produce, &c, should also be a source of considerable profit to the company, which has at its head some of the most enterprising men of San Francisco.

From the Fremont range, where the canal takes the water from the Humboldt river, down to its terminus at the Echo district, it will pass through or in the vicinity of the following mining districts: The Puebla, Harmony, East Range, Buena Vista, Star, Santa Clara, Prince Royal, Humboldt, El Dorado and Echo. All those districts are believed to contain numerous and rich mines of gold, silver and copper, which will give remunerative employment to thousands of men at some future day.

IF men could find the fabled fountain that is said to restore youth, with what eagerness they would rush to drink its waters. Yet with scarcely less eagerness do they rush to drink the waters that bring upon them premature old age, disease and loathsome ugliness.

THE La Porte paper gives the comfortable assurance that if a considerable number of unmarried ladies would come teat way, they would find their affinities.

A TRUE LOVE STORY.—Cobbett tells us how an English yeoman loved and courted, and how he was loved in return; and a prettier Episode does not exist in the English language. Talk of private memoirs of courts—the gossip of the cottage is worth them all. Cobbett, who was a sergeant major in a regiment of foot, fell in love with the daughter of a sergeant of artillery, then in the same province of New Brunswick. He had not passed more than an hour in her company, when noticing her modesty, quietude, and her sobriety, he said, "that's the girl for me." The next morning he was up early, and almost before it was light passed the sergeant's house. There she was in the snow, scrubbing out a washing tub. "That's the girl for me," again cried Cobbett, although she was not more than feurteen and he was nearly twenty one. "From the first day I spoke to her," he writes, "I had no more thought of her being the wife of any other man than I had the thought of her becoming a chest of drawers."

He paid every attention to her, and, young as she was, treated her with all confidence. He spoke to her as his friend, his second self. But in six months the artillery was ordered to England, and her father with them. Here was indeed a blow. Cobbett knew what Woolwich was, and what temptation a young pretty girl would be sure to undergo. He therefore took to her his whole fortune, one hundred and fifty guineas, the savings of his pay and overwork, and wrote to tell her that if she did not find her place comfortable, to take lodgings and put herself to school, and not work too hard, for he would be home in two years. "But," as he says, "as the malignity of the devil would have it, we were kept abroad two years longer than our time, Mr. Pitt having knocked up a dust with Spain about Nootka Sound. O, how I cursed Nootka Sound, and poor bawling Pitt." But at the end of four years Cobbet got his discharge.

He found his little girl a servant of all work, at five pounds a year, in the house of a captain Brisac, and, without saying a word about the matter, she put into his hands the whole of the hundred and fifty guineas unbroken!

What a pretty, tender picture is that!—the young sergeant and the little girl of eighteen, who kept for four years the treasure untouched, waiting with patience her lover's return! What kindly, pure trust, on both sides! The historical painters of our Royal Academy give us scenes from English intrigue and bloodshed. Why can they not give us a scene of true English courtship like that? Cobbett, who knew how to write sterling English better than any man of his own day, and most men of ours, does not forget to enlarge upon the scene, and dearly he loved his wife for her share of it; but he does not forget to add that with his love was mixed 'self gratulation on this indubitable proof of the soundness of his own judgment."

NO FRONT TEETH.—The editor of the Adams News tells of a musician, a neighbor of his, who recently undertook to trade cows with a certain neighbor H., but after some bantering, H. told the musician that his cow wasn't worth a song—she was so old that she had no front teeth on her upper jaw and couldn't, therefore, eat grass. Our singing friend laughed, wise, and went off whistling. But the remark of H. preyed on his mind and he finally went and examined old Brindle's mouth; and to his horror and surprise he found she was entirely destitute of upper front teeth! Angry at the supposed cheat, he drove old Brindle two miles, in a driving rain storm and through mud ankle deep, to the house of the man of whom he had bought her, and, berating the surprised farmer for selling him such an old cow, demanded his money back at once. The farmer, as soon as he could get in a word edgevise, told the angry man that cows never have front teeth on the upper jaw; and, to convince him, took him out to the cow yard and opened the mouths of a dozen or so of cattle, young and old, after which the singing man turned old Brindle into the road and trudged home behind her considerably the wiser for the lesson he had thus learned in Natural History.

"WELL, how do you like the looks of the varmint?" said a "southwester" to a "down easter," who was gazing with round eyed wonder, and evidently for the first time, at a huge alligator, with wide open jaws, on the muddy banks of the Mississippi. "Wa'al," replied the Yankee, "he ain't what you may call a hansum critter, but he's got a great deal of openness when he smiles!"

A SHARP BOY.—Two gentlemen fishing. Sharp boy appears.

"Well, sir, git any bites?"

"Lots of 'em."

"Y-e-s, under your hat."

Race between boy and sundry stones—boy ahead.

COMMON SENSE.—It has made more great men than book learning. Washington never saw the inside of a college, and yet he has left a higher mark in the temple of fame than any other man of his age, because he excelled in good common sense. Napoleon Bonaparte was scarcely better educated, except in what concerns the art of war, and was a man of erratic genius, and yet his great practical shrewdness or common sense did more for him than anything else. He was rarely ever borne away by passion or genius in a manner to hide from his view the true relations of things around him, or the practical connection of cause and effect. As Macaulay says, "no man ever knew better than he what men and horses could do." Cæsar excelled as much in common sense as in genius. And, indeed, no man, was ever truly great who lacked this quality.

Even in the ordinary callings of life, how manifestly has common sense more to do with our success than any of the rarer qualities of character. What can a farmer of genius do in comparison with one who takes a practical view of what his business requires, and who prosecutes it accordingly? Merchants may, indeed, now and then, be made rich by venture, but if lacking in common sense to guide them in their new position to know what is fitting in the expenditure and investment of money, and to sober their ideas on all subjects, they will just as soon become poor again. So of ministers, lawyers, physicians, and men who live by their wits; our experience is, that of common sense.—N. Y. Chronicle.

RATHER A HARD HIT.—Ministers catch it sometimes as well as other people. A minister was traveling where the road was difficult to find, and requested a man by the wayside to direct him, naming the place where he wished to go—

"Well," says the hedger and ditcher, "keep on just as you are now going, about a mile and a half; there, at the crossroads, you will find a minister, who will direct you to the left a couple of miles, and there at the fork of the road is another minister, who will direct you to the right about three miles, and so on; at every fork and cross of the road is a minister to inform you which road to take."

"Ah!" says the parson, "what do you call ministers?"

"Why," says the other, "those things which stand up at the cross and fork of the road, with something like a hand on them."

"Fingerboards, you mean; why do you call them ministers?"

"Because they are always pointing the way to other people, and never go themselves!"

A GOOD TRAIT OF "THE TIMES."—Mr. J. Moore, a practical printer in London, lately stated in a lecture on the Aistory of the art of printing: "The proprietors of the Times have done much to improve the condition of the compositors employed on their establishment. For many years a savings bank has been established, to which every compositor is expected to subscribe weekly. A cuisine has been fitted up, where viands, wholesome and suitable, are prepared at a small cost to the customers. There is also a bath to refresh the body after the fatigues of the night. And, better still, dwelling houses have been erected on Mr. Walter's estate, in Berkshire, where the compositors may retire, in their old age, upon a pension."

MUTTON IN NEW YORK.—Few persons are aware of the extent to which speep are sold in New York city. Including those received at the four public market places and those sent directly to butchers, an average of over 10,000 live sheep per week were slaughtered in that city during the past year. Beside these, there are at least 1,000 dressed carcasses received weekly. If the whole number were driven in at one time three abreast, allowing four feet of space for each sheep, the line would extend from New York to Albany, a distance of over 145 miles.

PARADOX—Before the draft commenced, it was said by disloyal papers that all the democrats had gone to the war. Since then, they say that none but democrats are drafted!

SCHOOL CHILDREN.—The following districts are entitled to the apportionment of school monies for Yolo county:

Woodland, 215; Buchanan, 115; Washington, 110; Cottonwood, 53; Prairie, 76; Cache Creek, 26; Grafton, 100; South Putah, 27; North Putah, 59; Buckeye, 52; Cacheville, 103; Grand Island, 46; Merritt, 72; Fillmore, 81; Fremont, 27; Plainfield, 70; Willow Slough, 44; Monument, 38; Pine Grove, 50; Canon, 55; Union, 101—1,520 children, at 58 cents each, $881 60.

The total apportionment of the State is as follows: 76,475 children, at 58 cents each, $44,355 50.

EXPORTS.—The ship Lizzie Moses, from San Francisco for New York, carries a cargo of the estimated value of $250,000—the chief items of which are 423 bales wool, 340 casks oil, 44,400 hides, 1,800 sks. Mustard seed, 7,000 sks. copper ore, 95 pipes and pkgs. California wine, 45 bales bags, 20 cs. rosin, 110 bales and bdls. skins, barley, horns, &c.

THE new grist mill and tannery of Maclay & Butler, at McCartysville, Santa Clara, were destroyed by fire on Saturday night last, together with 200 cords of of bark, and a large quantity of hay and grain. The entire loss is estimated at $30,000, upon which there is no insurance. Much of the grain belonged to farmers in the vicinity. The loss to the firm is about $20,000.

BRIGADIER General Michael Corcoran, whose wife died recently in New York, was married again last month to the daughter of a citizen of that city. The ceremony was strictly private, only the relatives of the bride and the companions in arms of the General being present.—Immediately after the ceremony, the General and his bride set out for Niagara Falls, where they spent a few days. The General has returned to his command.

THE Humboldt Register says that Fall's mill is again in operation, and from four tuns of ore from the 'Gem of Sierra'—including the whole vein between the casings—no assorting whatever—63 lb bullion was turned out, assaying $1,086. One dollar and three cents per ounce; no selection of ore, but taken as it was found; and the ledge not opened below a depth of five feet. How does that strike you?

FIVE of the San Francisco wharves, namely the Jackson street, Washington street, Vallejo street, Clay street and Mission street wharves, have come under the control of the State Water Front Commissioners.

To be ruled out.

The subject of ruling out of the Union legislative caucus the San Francisco Senators and Assemblymen is moved and being pretty freely discussed through the papers in the immediate interest of the party. The reason assigned for denying the San Francisco delegation a voice in choosing legislative officers is, that they were nominated and elected in opposition to the nominees of the regularly organized Union convention by an independent organization commonly called "the people's party". The Independent (Stockton) whose editor is the State Printer elect, favors the move, and no doubt such high authority will not want for able backers, and should they persist in this ostracism, a very nice little family quarrel may spring out of it. The Alameda County Gazette suggests a feasible plan for a settlement of this vexed question. We quote the following from that paper which we extract from the Marysville Appeal as follows:

With the following and no other considerations, will the legislature have to do when called upon to decide on the elligibility of the San Francisco members to seats in the caucus: "Are they loyal?" "Do they represent the majority of the Union voters?" These are the only questions that can with propriety be asked.

These declarations have no doubt been often made by those gentlemen during the campaign which resulted in their election, and we think it rather unkind to doubt their sincerity now. If the Gazette's plan is not adopted, the oath of allegiance is the next and best alternative.

Board of Supervisors.

November 17th 1863.—The report of Daniel D' Gross, Road Master of Merritt township, was this day handed in, and on motion adopted.

INDIGENT SICK.—The petition of J. T. Daly and others on behalf of the Hewlet family for assisstance from the county, was referred to Supervisor Morris with instructions to report to the Board at some subsequent meeting.

On the petition of W. W. Joseph and others it is ordered that Putah township be divided into two road districts.

On motion it is ordered that the Clerk of the Board charge to the account and collect of C. H. Gray the amount of $20, being the amount of Crocker's account for printing two tax receipt books which had been paid by the county to said Crocker.

It appearing to the Board that Cox, the tax collector for the year 1858, received and receipted for the sum of $29,35 as taxes due from Cunniff for that year, but omitted to mark the same paid, in consequence of which omission Sheriff Gray also collected the same as delinquent tax for said year, it is ordered by the Board that said sum thus twice collected be refunded to said party.

November 20th.—In the matter of the "Tule Road" leading from Washington to the Tule House, it appearing that the damages heretofore claimed by Morrison & Combs, amounting to $300, and damages claimed by E. C. Taylor, amounting to $250, had been paid by private persons, it is ordered that the Road Master proceed to open said road immediately, and that the Clerk of the Board furnish said Road Master with a copy of this order.

Accounts this day audited and allowed amounting to the sum of $110 48.

On motion adjourned to meet again on the 2d Monday in December next.

THE Progressive Age, of Belfast, Me., states that the famous mare Flora Temple died at a stable in that city October 9th. She had trotted at Bangor, a few days previously, and took a sudden cold, which brought on a sudden attack of the distemper, of which she died. Her owner valued her at $1,600.

A BOY of four years, son of W. H. Jones of Petaluma, while playing about the stove on Monday last, pulled a kettle of boiling water over him and so scalded himself that he died next day.

THE flume above Mokelumne Hill, which furnished near all the water used in that town, was blown down by the gale of Monday night week.

AN orphan fair and concert lately given at Los Angeles, realized the sum of $1,534, while the expenses were only $48.

THE rates on the ocean steamer on Monday last were: Outside stateroom and ladies' saloon, $265; inside rooms, $239; second cabin, $85; steerage, $131.

BY OVERLAND TELEGRAPH.

The following dispatches are from the Sacramento Union:

Washington, Nov. 24.—The Star of this evening contains the following account of the brilliant preliminary movement of Gen. Thomas, at Chattanooga, Nov. 23: The reconnoissance in force made by Thomas has been completed in a most brilliant and successful manner. The object of the movement was to ascertain the strength of the enemy, and also to occupy and hold the knolls in front of our left, half way between our lines and missionary Ridge. The principal attack was made by General Hazen's brigade, supported on the left by General Willich's brigade and on the right by Sheridan's whole division. The entire field was visible from Fort Wood, where General Hazen's line of battle was formed in a field, being commanded by the heavy guns of the fort. Only one field battery was taken into action. This was planted on an elevated knoll, in the center of which Sheridan's line of battle was formed before the order to advance was given. The troops moved out of their positions at one o'clock P. M., and remained in line full three-quarters of an hour in full view of the enemy. When everything was ready orders to advance were given. Generals Hazen and Willich pushed out simultaneously. The first shot was fired at two o'clock P. M. In five minutes the lines of General Hazen were hotly engaged, while the artillery of Fort Wood opened upon the rebel rifle pits and camps behind the line. The firing practice of our gunners was splendid, but it elicited no reply, and it was soon evident that the rebels had no heavy artillery in that part of their intrenchments. Our troops, rapidly advancing, occupied the knolls upon which their works were constructed. A few moments later, Gen Willich, driving across the open field, carried the rifle pits in his front, the occupants of which fled. Gen. Sheridan, moving through a forest which stretched before him, drove in the rebels' advance, and halted according to orders. We have taken two hundred prisoners and gained positions of great importance. Should the rebels still attempt to hold Chattanooga valley, with the hights in our possession, a column moving to turn Missionary Ridge would be secure from a flank fire of artillery.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Official dispatches frym Grant and Thomas, dated Chattanooga, November 24th, state: Yesterday, Palmer's Granger's and Howard's corps carried the first line of rifle pits between Chattanooga and the creek, and captured nine officers and about one hundred men. Our loss was about one hundred. To-day Hooker, with Granger's and Osterhaus's divisions and two brigades of the Fourth Corps, carried the north slope of Lookout Mountain. The enemy's loss was about six hundred. Ours was small. There has been continuous fighting from twelve M. until after night, but we repulsed the enemy's attempt to retake the position. Sherman crossed at ten this morning, at the mouth of the South Chickamauga, with three divisions of the Fifteenth Corps and one division of the Fourteenth Corps, and carried the northern extremity of Missionary Ridge. Our success so far is complete. The troops from Lookout Valley carried and now hold the eastern slope of the mountain and points higher up Hooker reports 2,000 prisoners.

Chattanooga, November 25.—We are victorious. The enemy are routed Our loss is small; that of the enemy heavy, particularly in prisoners. The enemy evacuated Lookout mountain during the night. Hooker occupied it this morning

Sherman attacked the enemy on Missionary Ridge this morningland gained at that portion of the line a complete victory. General Coarse's brigade led the assault. Coarse was repulsed with heavy loss, Coarse being wounded in the tigh.

The second assault wos made at 1:30 P. M. Mathias', Loomis' and Ransom's brigades were engaged. They had nearly reached the summit of the hill, and tee enemy's works, when they were flenked, and an hour's fighting ensued. Mathias was wounded, and Colonel Putnam, of the Ninety-third Ohio, killed. The enemy being compelled to protect their right heavily, General Grant attacked their weakened center, and after an hour's hard fighting broke it and gained possession of the Ridge. The main force of the enemy was driven north toward Sherman, who ferced them to break up and flee ocross the Chickamauge. We have taken not less than five thousand prisoners—perhaps as many as ten thousand. Hooker will probably intercept the flying enemy in the vicicity of Rossville.

It is reported that we have taken a whole corps.

Prisoners say Bragg was on the Ridge just before it was taken.

Chattanooga, Nov 25—10 P. M. The captured artillery is reported to number forty pieces. Hooker captured five boxes of new muskets on Lookout Mountain. We are in entire possession of tee field and have full control over the railroad and river to Bridgeport.

Our losses will not amount to over 300 killed and 2,500 wounded in the three days operations. Our success has been most brilliant. The enemy is reported bivouacked beyond (south of) Mission Ridge.

THE Union of yesterday says in its editorial comments on the above dispatches, that rejecting for the present, at least, the stories of the rout of of Bragg's army, the capture of a whole corps and antieipations of intercepting the flying foe, it is still evident that Grant's forces have obtained brilliant, if not decisive, advantages, and at comparatively small cost of life The capture of the whole of Lookout Mountain by Hooker on the 24th settles the question of maintaining Chattanooga as a permanent base of operations, as both river and railroad communications were thus secured against rebel interruption. And when to this achievement is added the storming of Bragg's position on Missionary Ridge, compelling the enemy to retire toward Lafayette and the gaps of Pigeon Mountain, whence they moved against Rosecrans in September, leaving in the hands of Grant as many guns and prisoners as were taken from us at Chickamauga, we may safely congratulate ourselves upon a triumph of skill and valor full of promise of richer fruits. If the dispatches correctly depict the situation on the 25th, Grant at that date had the choice of following up the discomfited Bragg or of interposing a column between Longstreet and the main body of the enemy.

It is mentioned by a Washington authority, that up to noon on the 23d—the day on which Grant assumed the offensive—Burnside held possession of Knoxville and had met with no serious loss.

TRACY & Co. have disposed of their Express between Portland and the Northern mines to Wells, Fargo & Co. for the sum of $2,000, conditioned that T. & Co. do not establish another line within six months from the date of the sale.

FRANCIS Gagliardo has sued Trenor W. Park for $70,000, claimed as rents for the Mariposa estate from Dec. 19th 1861, to June 10th, 1862, on which last date plaintiff redeemed Freemont's interest.

BILLIARD SHARPS.—Wm. Goldthwaite and Harry Eaton played another game of billiards in Platt's Upper Hall last evening, five hundred points up, the former discounting the latter. After a few preliminary shots, Goldthwaite made the astonishing run of three hundred and sixty-six points. He also won the game. The average of his runs throughout the game reached twenty-nine points.—Alta, Nov. 23d.

BEAUTIES OF ENROLLMENT.—Some sweet instances of cheap patriotism crop out as officer Doty, of this place, proceeds with the discharge of his enrolling duties. He has found at least ten or twelve who were "blarsted furriners" while he was about, nothwithstanding the names of these jokers all appear on the poll list. Strange, isn't it? Doty has made two other marvelous discoveries: one is that the alien population of this township is about four times larger than it was ever supposed to be, and another is that there is a great scarcity of men hereabout under forty-five years old. Some of the "smarties" now attempting to evade enrollment are but arranging traps in which they will surely be caught.—Grass Valley National.

HOMICIDE IN SOLANO COUNTY.—The Suisun Herald of 18th November says:

On Friday last, John Croesdale, waiving an examination, was held to bail by Justice Hubbard to answer at the next term of the Court of Sessions, to a charge of having committed an assault with a deadly weapon on D. A. Fitzpatrick, with intent to do bodily injury. On Saturday morning Croesdale was killed by Fitzpatrick, and the latter is now in jail, awaiting the action of the Grand Jury at the ensuing term of court. We learn that the two men had conflicting claims to a tract of land, and quarreled upon the subject; that early on Saturday morning Croesdale left his house and proceeded on horseback nearly in the direction of Fitzpatrick, who, with his son—a lad 12 years of age—was out driving cattle. Croesdale being blind in the right eye, had acquired the habit of carrying his gun on his left side, and the piece was, as asual, resting on the saddle pommel. Fitzpatrick and son approached him so near that the boy testified to seing Croesdale's gun cocked and his finger on the trigger, and that he was raising it to shoot, when Fitzpatrick fired—the charge from his gun striking Croesdale's at the lock, shivering the stock, and driving pieces of iron and wood, with a gold buckle Croesdale wore, into his abdomen, about four inches below the navel, thus inflicting a frightful wound, from which he soon after died An inquest was held by acting Coroner Hubbard at the scene of the occurrence, some five or six miles from town, the facts of the case elicited, and Fitzpatrick, who had previously been arrested, was lodged in jail as above stated.

STATE HOUSE.—Secretary Tuttle is seeing that the State House shall be in neat and comfortable order for the Legislature when it shall assemble on the first Monday of next month. The new sidewalk is finished, and the iron fence is being made glossy with a coating of black paint. Internally, the two "legislative chambers" are feeling the influence of warm suds, and are having a harrowing time under the bristles of a number of whitewash brushes. The Senate Chamber at the session of '63 will be graced with new curtains and upholstery, a compliment which the Assembly Chamber deserved and received last session or the session before. Strong and heavy scaffolding in the portico, shows that the annual repairs to the columns in front of the building are now under consideration. Recent alterations made to the State Treasurer's office have added much to the comfort and convenience of that department. The State House will be in perfect order, inside and out, by the morning of Monday, 7th of December.—Bee.

DECLINE OF NAPA.—The Napa Reporter says that in 1860 it was difficult for a new comer to find either a vacant house for his family, or store or office in which to do business. This is far from being the case at the present time. We yesterday counted no less than sixty-three vacant buildings and offices on five of our principal streets, and there are many more in the outskirts of the town. There are probably about eighty altogether, among them one steam mill, one brewery and one large hotel. The causes of this state of things are manifold War, Washoe Reese River, Cariboo, Salmon, John Day's River, and the low price of grain, have all played their part in depleting our population.

A BRISK BUSINESS.—The Idahoe Delta says: "There appears to be a brisk and lucrative business done by some of the citizens of our county, in altering the marks of hogs, the brands on cattle, and selling of stray horses, which belong to others. Frequent complaints have been made, and the parties caught in the act, but always excuse themselves by having mistaken them for their own. It is time to quit this onslaught upon other's property. If persisted in, in the absence of any other tribunal of Justice, Judge Lynch may hold a session of his court in the quiet shades of Tulare. Beware!"

Will Cure without Fail

Scrofula or King's Evil, Cancers, Tumors, Eruptions of the skin, Erysipelas, Chronic Sore Eyes, Ringworm or Tetter, Scald Head, Rheumatism, Pains in the Bones and Joints, Old Sores and Ulcers, Salt Rhrum, Diseases of the Kidneys, Loss of Appetite, Disease arising from the use of Mercury, Pain in the Side and Shoulder, General Debility, Dropsy, Jaundice, Lumbago, &c.

Dr. Guysott's Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla put up in the largest sized bottles, contains more of the Honduras Sarsaparilla than any other prepation extant, which is combined with the extract of Yellow Dock, the extract of Wild Cherry and the Balsam of Fir, thus making the remedy more thoroughly efficient that any other Sarsaparilla before the public. At the same time it is perfectly free from ALL mineral poisons, whish can not be said of any other of the Sarsaparilla compounds. The Invalid should beware of poisons. Mercury, Iron, Quinine, Potash, Iodine, Sulphur, Arsenic, and many other mineral and metalic poisons enter into and form the active basis of most of the sarsaparilla and panaceas of the day, Guysott's Compound Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla does not contain a particle of the substances; as any one can ascertain by applying the necessary tests.

These poisons may occasionally remove disease, but they so vitiate the blood and impregnate the whole system with their baneful effects, that the first cold or the first attack of disease, prostrates the patient's strength and subjects him or her to the most excrutiating torture, and renders another cure almost impossible and hopeless. Let all poisonous sarsaparilla preparations alone, and use Guysott's Improved Extract af Yellow Dock and Sarscparilla, which is thoroughly efficacious, perfectly harmless and purely vegetable. All kinds of diseases yield to its genial influence.

Caution.—Beware of counterfeits. All genuine Dr. Guysott's Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla has the name of JOHN D. PARK, Present Proprietor, Cincinnati, O., on the label.

Remember this fact when buying, all without the name of "JOHN D. PARK, Gincinnati, Ohio," on the label are counterfeit.

PATENT COMBINED GANG PLOW, SEED SOWER AND HARROW.

We have purchased the right this great labor-saving implement for the State of California, and are having a number made in the Atlantic States for this market.

With this combined Machine one man, with six horses, can do the work of three twelve inch plows, besides sowing the grain, and harrowing it in as he proceeds, thus finishing his work in the best manner possible, without being obliged to travel over the plowed ground. This Machine was very thoroughly tested by the farmers of Santa Clara county, where some eighty are now in use; also, by the Messrs. Hensel & Kethley, of this county, and Messrs Hoppin Brothers, near Cacheville, Yolo county. It is made very substantial; is not liable to get out of order, and being on large truck wheels, the Gang Plow, Seed Rower and Harrow, runs lighter than three plows would, cutting the same amount of land.

We are desirous of having these plows generally introduced throughout the State, and are therefore prepared to offer very favorable inducements to farmers and the trade. The following are some of the names of our customers who have used them for the past two seasons:

Sacramento county—Hensel & Kethley.
Yolo county.—Hoppin Brothers, L M Curtis, Caleb Davis, C Travers, A J Scroggins.
Sutter county.—M Boulware, A L Chandler.
Colusa county.—James Timothy, J Crouch.
Butte county.—Major J Bidwell.
Placer county.—E Miles.
